DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 7 – 9, 19, 20 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 7 recites the limitation, “an N well guard ring surrounding the device”. The scope of the claim is not known, since it is unknown if the N well guard ring of claim 7 is a second N well guard ring, or if it is the same N well guard ring cited in claim 1. Claims 8 and 9 are indefinite since they depend from an indefinite claim.

Claim 19 recites the limitation, “an N well guard ring between the P+ guard ring and P substrate guard ring.” The scope of the claim is not known, since it is not known if this is a second N well guard ring or the same N well guard ring cited in claim 16. Claim 20 is indefinite since it depends from an indefinite claim.

3. Claim 22 recites the limitation “...The substrate isolation design of claim 21...” in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim, since there is no claim 21.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2811

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1, 3 – 5, 10, 11, 13, 16 and 18 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 6,831,346 to Li et al.

Regarding claim 1, Li et al. teach a substrate isolation design (Figs. 3 – 6), comprising:

a P substrate (46);

a P well (50) positioned on the substrate;

a device (63) positioned in the P well; and a P substrate guard ring (54) surrounding the device, wherein an N well guard ring (52) is positioned between the device and the P substrate guard ring.

Regarding claim 3, Li et al. teach a substrate isolation design, further comprising a P+ guard ring (68; Col. 7, lines 42 – 44) surrounding the device.

Regarding claim 4, Li et al. teach a substrate isolation design, wherein the P+ guard ring is between the device and the P substrate guard ring.

Regarding claim 5, Li et al. teach a substrate isolation design, wherein the N well guard ring is between the P+ guard ring and the P substrate guard ring.

Regarding claim 10, Li et al. teach a substrate isolation design, comprising:

a substrate (46);

a device (63) positioned on the substrate;

a first guard ring (68) surrounding the device;

Art Unit: 2811

a second guard ring (52) surrounding the first guard ring; and a third guard ring (54) surrounding the second guard ring, the third guard ring being a substrate guard ring, wherein the second guard ring comprises an N well guard ring.

Regarding claim 11, Li et al. teach a substrate isolation design, wherein the first guard ring comprises a P+ guard ring.

Regarding claim 13, Li et al. teach a substrate isolation design, wherein the third guard ring comprises a P substrate guard ring.

Regarding claim 16, Li et al. teach a substrate isolation design, comprising:
a P substrate (46);
a device (63) positioned in the substrate; and a P substrate guard ring (54) surrounding the device, wherein an N well guard ring (52) is positioned between the device and the P substrate guard ring.

Regarding claim 18, Li et al. teach a substrate isolation design, further comprising a P+ guard ring (68) positioned between the device and the P substrate guard ring.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2, 6, 14, 15 and 17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
